

READINGS AND REFLECTIONS -- 24TH SUNDAY YEAR B

First Reading

Isaiah 50:5-9 (JB)

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

The Lord has opened my ear.
For my part, I made no resistance,
neither did I turn away.
I offered my back to those who struck me,
my cheeks to those who tore at my beard;
I did not cover my face
against insult and spittle.
The Lord comes to my help,
so that I am untouched by the insults.
So, too, I set my face like flint;
I know I shall not be shamed.
My vindicator is here at hand.
Does anyone start proceedings against me?
Then let us go to court together.
Who thinks he has a case against me?
Let him approach me.
The Lord is coming to my help,
who dare condemn me?

The word of the Lord.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 114:1-6, 8-9 (JB)

*I will walk in the presence of the Lord,
in the land of the living.*

I love the Lord for he has heard
the cry of my appeal;
for he turned his ear to me
in the day when I called him.

*I will walk in the presence of the Lord,
in the land of the living.*

They surrounded me, the snares of death,
with anguish of the tomb;
they caught me, sorrow and distress.

I called on the Lord's name.
O Lord my God, deliver me!

*I will walk in the presence of the Lord,
in the land of the living.*

How gracious is the Lord, and just;
our God has compassion.
The Lord protects the simple hearts;
I was helpless so he saved me!

*I will walk in the presence of the Lord,
in the land of the living.*

He has kept my soul from death,
my eyes from tears
and my feet from stumbling.

*I will walk in the presence of the Lord,
in the land of the living.*

Second Reading James 2:14-18 (JB)

A reading from the letter of St James

Take the case, my brothers, of someone who has never done a single good act but claims that he has faith. Will that faith save him? If one of the brothers or one of the sisters is in need of clothes and has not enough food to live on, and one of you says to them, 'I wish you well; keep yourself warm and eat plenty,' without giving them these bare necessities of life, then what good is that? Faith is like that: if good works do not go with it, it is quite dead.

This is the way to talk to people of that kind: 'You say you have faith and I have good deeds; I will prove to you that I have faith by showing you my good deeds - now you prove to me that you have faith without any good deeds to show.'

The word of the Lord.

Gospel Mark 8:27-35 (JB)

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

Jesus and his disciples left for the villages round Caesarea Philippi. On the way he put this question to his disciples, 'Who do people say I am?' And they told him. 'John the Baptist,' they said, 'others Elijah; others again, one of the prophets.' 'But you,' he asked, 'who do you say I am?' Peter spoke up and said to him, 'You are the Christ.' And he gave them strict orders not to tell anyone about him.

And he began to teach them that the Son of Man was destined to suffer grievously, to be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and to be put to death, and after three days to rise again; and he said all this quite openly. Then, taking him aside, Peter started to remonstrate with him. But, turning and seeing his disciples, he rebuked Peter and said to him, 'Get behind me, Satan! Because the way you think is not God's way but man's.'

He called the people and his disciples to him and said, 'If anyone wants to be a follower of mine, let him renounce himself and take up his cross and follow me. For anyone who wants to save his life will lose it; but anyone who loses his life for my sake, and for the sake of the gospel, will save it.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

REFLECTIONS

At the time of Jesus, the popular Jewish expectation was that the Messiah would have a political role – he was the one who was going to make Israel great again! He was the one who would liberate them from roman oppression and restore power to the people.

Jesus' disciples shared this view, and they looked forward to having positions of power, wealth, and influence in this new kingdom that the Messiah would bring about.

They bickered and argued amongst themselves about who amongst them was the greatest – who amongst them would have the places of honour and be seated at the right hand and the left hand of Jesus in this new kingdom.

It is little wonder then, that peter, after hearing that the Messiah was destined to suffer and to die at the hands of the religious leaders, took Jesus aside to remonstrate with him. Peter was voicing what all the disciples were thinking – this cannot be allowed to happen.

Peter and the disciples are put right very quickly – the way you think is not God's way, but this world's ways of power over others, of wealth and of fame and position.

God's ways are those of service of others, of gentleness, of mercy, and of compassion.

God's ways are chosen

- when the power that we have is used for others;
- when the wealth that we have is used to alleviate the suffering and the hardship of others,
- when fame and esteem stems from the gratitude of those whom we have served and assisted.

Living in this way is what renouncing oneself and taking up the cross each day means in practice.
